Teachers' Day Exclusive
E-Bulletin

Beloved Bishop's Blessings

Dear Jr Principal, Jr Vice Principal, Respected Teachers, Respected Non-Teaching Staff and Auxiliary Staff, and dear and beloved children,

Today, as you gather in great joy and enthusiasm to celebrate Teachers' Day, let me also join you in wishing all our beloved teachers a happy Teachers' Day. All of us know, that on this day we recall the great personality of Dr Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, the former President of India, who agreed to the desires of school children to celebrate his birthday as Teachers' Day. Philosopher, scholar, writer, diplomat, Vice Chancellor, Vice President and President of India, he was an eminent product of Madras Christian College. We are fortunate to have such illumined minds in our Motherland, whose thoughts and visions we try to imbibe in our nation making as well as which are inspirational for us to withstand and resist ideological attacks against human dignity or constitutional values.

Today being September 5th, we are doubly blessed with the feast of St Mother Teresa of Calcutta, who was a teacher par excellence as well as a saintly mother to the poorest of the poor. Her life and values continue to challenge our education system and its goals to be in favour of uplifting the poor and serving them with dignity without caring about their creed or caste or colour.

In celebrating Teachers' Day, we are celebrating our teachers and their commitments in the field of education and formation. Because of the unique role and relevance of teaching and teacher, both in the East and West we revere and respect teachers. Respect for the teachers is also reflected in the religious scriptures of all religions. This means that to preserve humanity as created in the image and likeness of God and to help it reach its finality the world needs teachers next to God and parents.

To understand a teacher's vocation and contribution and to appreciate them on a day like today, simultaneously calls for understanding what authentic education is. Catholic Church understands the goal of education as human formation. Education is formation given to a child whose innate bodily, intellectual and spiritual faculties are developed in such a way for him or her to be a true human being in the society, nation and the world at large. Therefore, an authentic education exposes the student to the scientific, technological, cultural and spiritual heritages and advancements of the nation and humanity. In this context, a well-trained teacher is an illumined person. He or she is a converging point, a pedagogue as well a direction hinting compass for the students to arrive at their goals. This is the reason we use figurative symbolism for teachers or gurus as a burning lamp in the darkness spreading light in the life of a child.

Dear Teachers, along with the changes in the world and with your family responsibilities, I understand that your vocation to be a committed teacher is a very challenging task. Hence, I appreciate you for fulfilling your task of maintaining the highest standard of schools in matters of academic achievements and human growth. It is my hope and wish that every teacher and the school management pay more and more attention to the areas of compassion, listening, accompaniment and forgiveness to nurture human dignity in a world which tends to denigrate humanity more and more for economic and political gains.

God bless you all. Jai Hind!

Message From The Manager

Rev Fr Jose, Rev. Fr. Johnson, Respected teachers, beloved parents and Dear students,

I am extremely glad to know that Flowerite E-Bulletin 2022 is ready to be published. I congratulate all of you for your planning and creativity in bringing out the special issue Flowerite E-Bulletin on the occasion of Teachers' Day.

Each child is a unique creation of God. Each child has something special in his or her life. The accompaniment of parents and teachers play a vital role in assisting the child to bring out the best in him or her. In the present-day world, children require special guidance and orientation to find out the uniqueness of their life. I am happy to acknowledge the dedicated service of teachers towards the overall development of students. 'Flowerite' the special edition is one of the means of helping the students to bring out their hidden talents.

Children grow and achieve the aim of their life in an atmosphere of love and respect. Children do their best when they are accompanied by the people who support and encourage them. Let our efforts to walk along with the children inspire them to believe in themselves and to work hard towards the attainment of the goal of their life.

Once again hearty congratulation to Rev. Fr. Jose, Rev. Fr Jonson and all the teachers for your dedicated service towards the children.

May the Lord bless you and guide you to walk with children in creating a better society for our country and people.

With all good wishes,

Fr. Poly Payyappilly
Manager

From The Principal's Desk....

*"Not all of us can do great things,
But we can do small things with great love"*
- Mother Theresa

My dear Colleagues and Students,

Today we commemorate our great teachers and their teachings. On this wonderful day let me convey to all the teachers of Little Flower family my personal greetings and best wishes of the day.

Dear teachers, I am proud of you. I am proud of your dedication and commitment to the profession of teaching. I am proud of your personal sacrifices to teach our children. I am proud that you have taken up this responsibility seriously.

Today, we pay tribute to two great personalities. Dr. Sarvapally Radhakrishnan and St. Mother Theresa. Dr. Radhakrishnan was a scholar, eminent philosopher, thinker and above all a great teacher. Mother Theresa was the epitome of love and service. All the qualities of these personalities should manifest in a good teacher. A teacher should be highly competent in the academic knowledge. At the same time he/she should have capability to know, understand and love their students. In this way when teachers acquire the qualities of the above said great teachers they become capable of designing the character of our future generation.

Once again imparting all the teachers my cordial blessings and joys of the day.

"A literary genius, it is said, resembles all, though no one resembles him...."
- Dr. Sarvapally Radhakrishnan

Thank you.

With regards,
Fr. Jose
Principal

From Editor's pen

*'Education is not only a ladder of opportunity
But it is also an investment in our future'*

Dear Readers,

Most delightfully, I offer the "Flowerite E- Bulletin", a literary meal prepared by the students for their educators on the occasion of Teachers' Day.

This edition of the bulletin is unique as it is the first time in the history of Little Flower School that we have ventured into E-bulletin which aims at not only satisfying the literary taste buds but also contributing to the environment in a small way.

I thank the Principal Reverend Father Jose who has supported and encouraged the Editorial team of teachers and students in this novel effort of bringing out this maiden edition of E-Bulletin. I also extend my acknowledgement to the contributors and the creative efforts of the E-bulletin designers who are a team of students from class XI.

So, dear readers savour the delicacies like articles, poems, memoirs, paintings, and quotes from the amateurs.

We will continue with the E-bulletin in the coming months and shall bring you more works to relish in the next E-bulletin.

Happy Teachers' Day

Thanking you,
Yours faithfully,
Meera Maurya

DR. SARVEPALLI RADHAKRISHNAN: AN INSPIRATION

Teachers' day is a day which is dedicated to our teachers. It is just a way to thank and show our appreciation to our mentors for their guidance and help in shaping our future. But why do we celebrate it? In India, Teachers' Day is celebrated on 5th September and this tradition started in 1962.

Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan was a great person. He became the first Vice-President of the country and the second president of free India. Besides, being a vice-president and president he was a philosopher, a teacher, and an author.

He was born in 1888 in Madras in a very poor Brahmin Family. Due to the poor economic status of his family, he completed his studies with the help and support of scholarships.

Sometime before Indian independence, he was appointed as the ambassador of UNESCO. And, after independence, he became the ambassador of the Soviet Union. In 1954, he received the Bharat Ratna award.

To sum it up we can say that, Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan was a great man who loved to teach. For his efforts in teaching, we celebrate his birthday as Teacher's Day in India.

To Teachers with Love

"It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken the joy in creative knowledge and expression."

The influence a teacher makes on an individual extends beyond the classroom. Teachers put in tremendous efforts to understand their students and cater to them wholeheartedly. They take much care in moulding the character of their students, thereby helping them grow into compassionate and socially responsible individuals. Teachers' Day is an occasion for us to remember our dear teachers and be grateful to them for the role they play in our lives.

A teacher is the building block on which a society is built. The responsibility of a teacher is huge as they perform the job of shaping intellectual and creative minds who turn out to be the future of society. In Dr. Radhakrishnan's opinion "Teachers are the best minds of the country." Celebrated in his honour. Teachers' day turns out to be a day to remember, appreciate, applaud and thank our teachers for providing us guidance and support.

No matter how old we grow, there are a few teachers with whom we would like to share the progress we make in our lives, some who understand and believe in us more than our parents do, some whom we would run to no matter when and where we catch sight of them and some who turns out to be like great friends apart from being wonderful teachers. Teachers' Day is a chance to let these teachers know how much of an influence they have made in our lives.. It's not necessary that you have to wait until Teachers' Day to show your gratitude towards them for their consent love and support, rather it should come from your heart each and everyday.

The Lifting Hand

When I grew,
And started walking on foot,
There was a hand, which lifted me up,
Taught me the way to walk on the road of life.

When I saw,
Strange faces outside for the first time,
There was a hand, which held mine tightly,
Giving me courage to face them all.

When I feared,
The challenges of my life,
There was a hand, which patted my shoulder,
Told me to fight, till the time I survive.

When I was blank,
Unaware of what to do, how to do,
This hand, took me to the world of the knowledge,
I now own.

No matter how dense the night of negativity
and difficulties was,
This one hand always supported me and filled in me the real motive of my life
That hand, was of my teacher indeed,
Which if blesses one,
Makes the person capable of anything, and makes him successful in the world.

TEACHER

The person who bears us,
The person who cares for us
Is our dearest 'teacher'...
The person who fights for us,
Who is ready to cherish, our souls with knowledge
Is our dearest 'teacher'
The person who loves us,
Who feels our pain,
Who heals our wounds,
Is our dearest 'teacher'
The person who believes in us,
The person who chisels us,
Is our dearest teacher.
Our teachers do so much for us,
So, shouldn't we do something for them?
Nothing much, just the love and respect to our dearest teachers
Who always stand by our side,
In every situation of our lives!

There Is No World Without Teacher

There is a saying in sanskrit :

“अज्ञान तिमिशन्धस्य ज्ञानाभ्यन शलाकया ।
चक्षुरुन्मीलितं येन तस्मै श्री गुरवे नम : ॥ ”

Meaning : Salutation to the Guru, who enlightened me by removing the darkness that blinded my eyes.

With the given shlok above, I would like to share some of my views;

If the world was without teachers, we humans would have never been able to attain today modernity, technological advances etc. Without them we would have never been civilized. Without them, we would have never been reached our goals .The life would have been full of hardships

That is the reason why God created teachers so that they could make this world a better and a wiser place.

The conclusion is that a world without teachers is a world that cannot exist.

Myth: A Teacher who furnishes his students with academic knowledge and assigns them with homework, project, thesis, major, minors or practical. Teacher who always praises a student who is academically profound and criticize other students for poor academic performances.

Truth: A Great Teacher, eternally strives to bring forth the outmost potential of his students, perpetually endeavour to heightens the enthusiasm of his students while teaching them and does not judge the capabilities from their academic status but consistently encourages his students to achieve greater heights as a human being.

TEACHER: A Wonderful Magic

A magic that sparks the mind,
To fulfill your dreams and make you kind.

A magic that recruits your heart,
And shows your part with beautiful art.

A magical music that makes you dance,
And makes you happy at every glance.

A magic that shapes your future,
A magical library of knowledge,
It's a treasure
Just like a TEACHER.

God Made "Teachers"

God understood our thirst for
Knowledge, And Our Need To Be Led
By someone wiser;
He needed a heart of compassion,
Of encouragement, and patience;
Someone who would accept
The Challenge Regardless Of The Opposition;
Someone who could see potential
And believe in the best in others . . .
So he made teachers

Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam

A Great Teacher

Avul Pakir Jainulabdeen Abdul Kalam was an Indian aerospace scientist who served as the 11th President of India from 2002 to 2007. He was born on 15th October 1931 in Rameshwaram, Tamil Nadu, and studied physics and aerospace engineering. He is known as the 'Missile Man of India' and one of the most beloved Presidents. A.P.J. Abdul

Kalam was also a great teacher. He even wanted to be remembered as a teacher more than anything else. When he became the President in 2002, he made no compromise on his penchant for teaching, and even right before he died, he was busy teaching a class in Shillong. Below are some of their best sayings by him on teachers: "The role of the teacher is like the proverbial 'ladder', it is used by everyone to climb up in life, but the ladder itself stays in its place." "I believe there is no other profession in the world that is more important to society than that of a teacher." "The purpose of education is to make good human beings with skill and expertise...Enlightened human beings can be created by teachers." "Teachers are the backbone of any country, the pillar upon which all aspirations are converted into realities."

Echoes from the past

Hi Flowerites! How have you all been doing? Oh! myself? Karan Rathore. You don't know me personally but we do have a deep connection. 10 years ago, I walked the same corridors, was schooled in the same classrooms, stood in punishment & did what not, at the same place where you are now. Yes, I am an alumnus, a senior cum friend of yours. Fear not because I won't lecture you on how to score well in boards or how to be a perfect student, rather I would tell you something more important...about teachers, my teachers, your teachers, the teachers you & I would never forget. I am not going to say that I remember all of my teachers & neither will you. But, this class of teachers cannot be forgotten - The punishers [who were as strict as the rules of nature], the angels [who went out of the way to help you] & the know-it-all [who could preach even the Bible].

In this formal education system, I remember only those teachers who were the most informal with me. And, have my assurance to believe that every teacher has that informal side concealed within. It is just that some doors are difficult to open. Unlock these doors to liberate that informality & you will start to fall in love with those teachers, whom you feared or hated the most. Having left my schooling a decade ago, I remember nothing but my teachers, friends & the shenanigans I played with . The punishments you are crying over at present, will become a very sweet memory in the forthcoming future. So, stop suffering punishments rather learn from them. You are not merely living this teenage life to study for your future but also you are living it to make the best and sweetest memories of your life, that you shall forever cherish. Ever since kindergarten, we have seen or been taught to see school as a place that is not likeable or a burden, but the day you realize that the school you are in right now is going to be the place you will miss the most in your life, is the day you will start to enjoy every moment of your school life.

Being in this American corporate job for years, I assure you that your school is a heaven to my hellish office & your teachers are a zillion times better than my boss. They are there to guide & motivate you...to pamper you in difficult times & to correct you at fault. I can spend all my heaps of dollars I've earned these years, just to quit this 9 to 5 job & get myself enrolled in the 7 to 2 job which you are in and live my school memories all over again. I know this can never come true. But my little young friend, you have this opportunity, this advantage over me. Go exploit it, neither for me nor for your teachers, but just for your own self. Love your teachers & live your life well. #lovelifelaughter

TEACHER: My Second 'MOM'

A teacher is the person who helps others to learn. A teacher is the one who is unforgettable, the one who is a true friend and who brings new meaning to a student's life. 'A life without a Teacher is just like a book without knowledge.' One can't imagine a life without an instructor, a guide or a teacher. They fill the empty pages of student's life with happiness and success. A teacher motivates a student towards a better growth. We say that 'School is our second home.' like that we can say 'A Teacher is our second mother.' Not just for saying but in reality, it is true. A teacher cares for us, a teacher guides us to the correct track of life. A teacher leads to success.

Relationship between a teacher and a student should be more personal than professional. A teacher does not take much time to make a student realize his/her ability. A teacher makes a student realize what life is.

A teacher is like a burning candle who burns to light the life of a student. A teacher is like a role model for a student. When we commit a mistake, a good teacher will not hesitate to point it out to us. A teacher enlightens the life of a student and motivates the children to the best of their abilities. And all these qualities make a Teacher a 'TRUE Teacher'.

THE CATALYST IN A KID'S LIFE

I tell you about this kid,
Whose report cards, till middle school
Were A-graded;
But the actuality of his education
Struck him like lightning,
Left him devasted.

I tell you about this kid,
He had never been so perplexed;
Like other students, his brain muscles,
He could not have flexed.

One day, in class, like a silver lining,
Arrived a man, having in his hair
A hint of grey;
Oh boy, this cloud had never seen such
Tall- magnificent-sophisticated ray.

The kid was put in his able hands,
Experience, Examples and Errors,
These three;
He put in the correct series,
To change the way the kid used to see.

A little-more-than-half of the man's job
Was done daily by the kid
What could have stopped him then?
Goodbye to his previous horrors he bid.

Months flew, the kid's exams
Were at head.
He was no longer a scaredy kitten,
The man's influence had grown on him,
And like a fairy-tale, this narrative
Has been written.

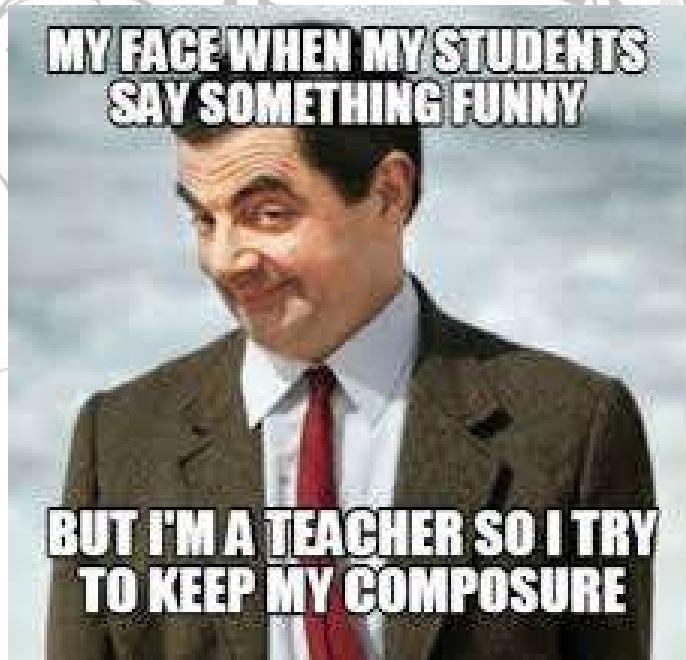

I tell you about this kid,
Who was remarkably re-modeled into a fine Valedictorian by a man
In his Thirty-Eights.

This man can never be forgotten,
Who played the role of an Ernest,
The Preacher;
In the kid's success, gave a hand
And rightly earned the honor of being Called a "Teacher".

'शिक्षक'

जीवन की राह दिखाते,

गिरते हैं जब हम, तो उठाते शिक्षक।

ज्ञान का दीप जलाते,

माता-पिता के बाद आते शिक्षक

देकर अपनी ज्ञान की पूँजी,

जीवन संधर्ष सिखाते शिक्षक।

न्याय, सत्य का भी एक पथ है,

करते नहीं वह भेद-भाव,

हमको गले लगाते शिक्षक।

वर्तमान में संग चलकर,

भविष्य उज्ज्वल बनाते शिक्षक।

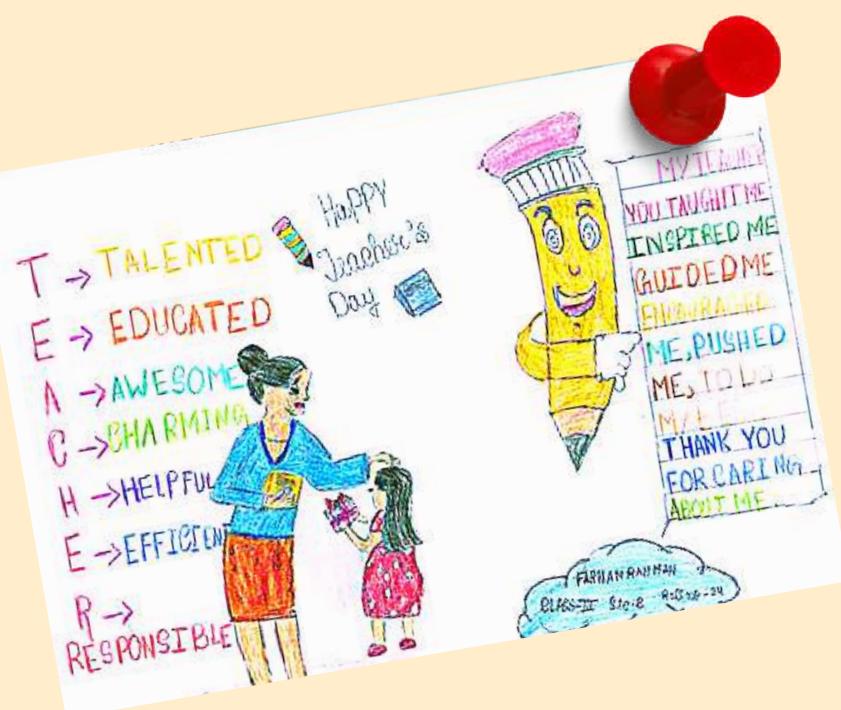

नहीं कर सकते तुलना किसी से,

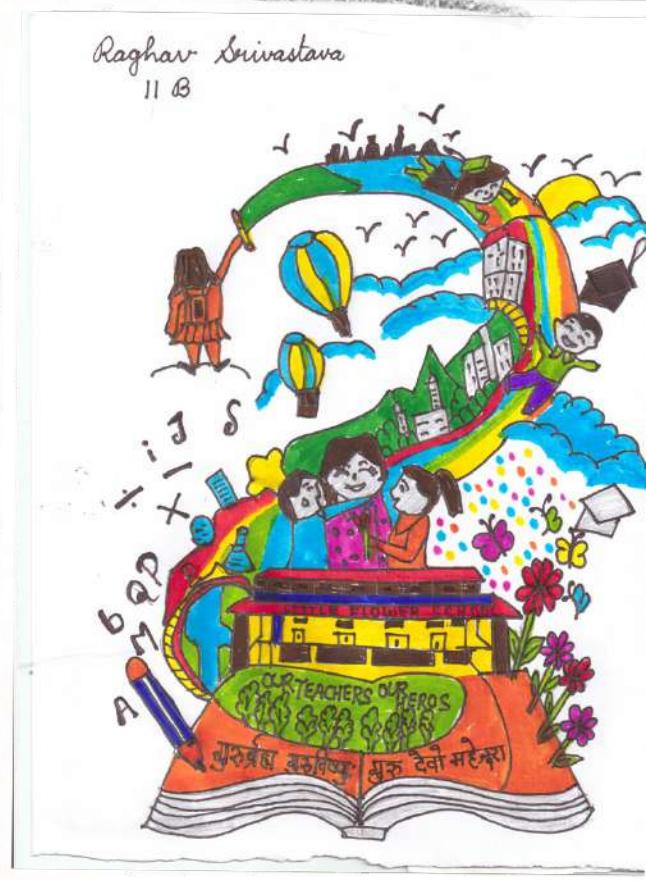

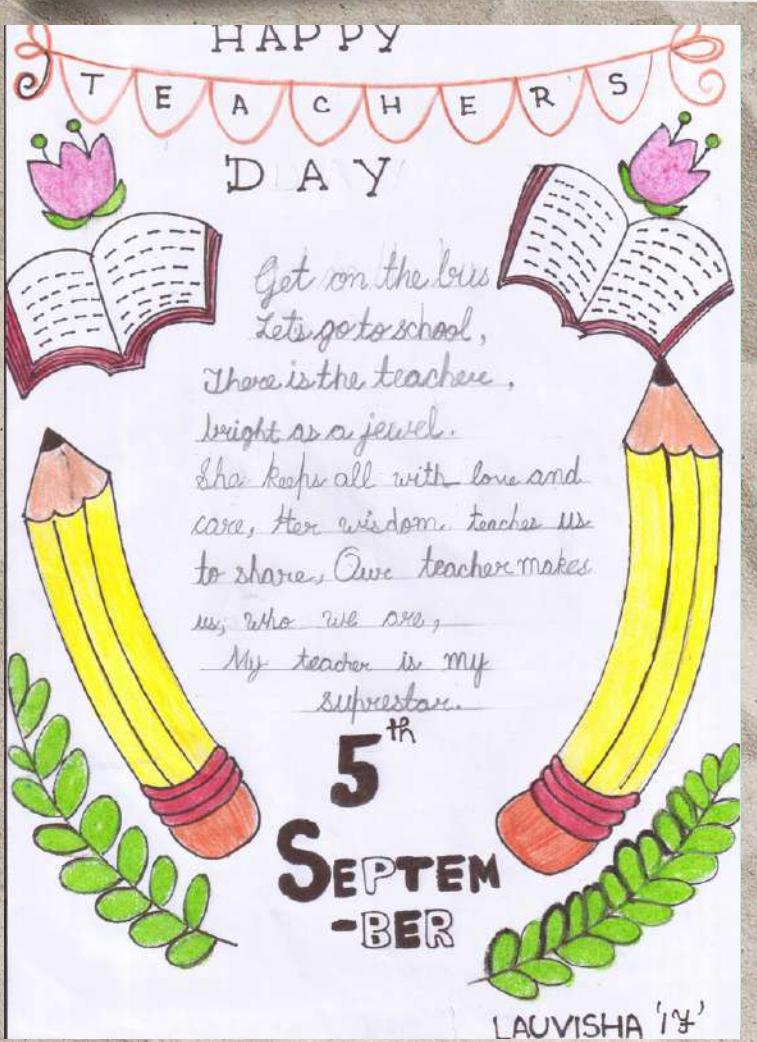

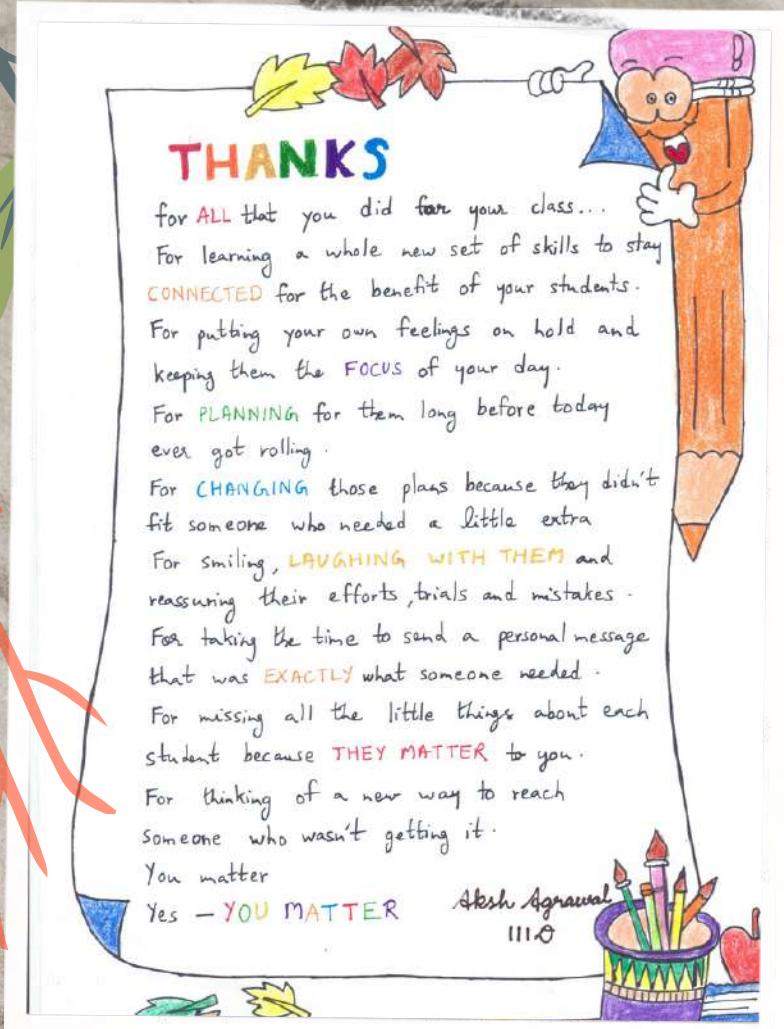

अतुलनीय कहलाते शिक्षक।
